The Company has been adopting the electronic voting platform for institutional investors operated by ICJ, Inc. since the 1st Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 28, 2011.

The Company is in the process translating the convocation notice into English, and is enhancing efforts to facilitate the exercise of voting rights by overseas investors.

◆ Strategic shareholdings (Principle 1-4)

1. Standard of and Approach to Classification of Shares for Investment

If the purpose of investment is:

- (1) maintaining or strengthening business relationships with the Company in which shares are held;
- (2) maintaining or strengthening cooperative relationships for the promotion of alliance operations; or
- (3) coordination for efficient construction work, etc.,

the Group classifies such investments as strategic shareholdings. Investments made for other purposes are classified as pure investments.

2. Method of examining the policy on cross-shareholdings and the rationality of shareholdings, and details of examination on whether the holding of specific shares is appropriate by the Board of Directors, etc.

(1) Policy on holding shares

The Group holds shares when it is thought that holding the shares of a business partner will lead to the improvement of the Group's corporate value or the interests of shareholders. The Company checks the objectives of shareholding and the state of trading, and gradually reduces shares for which the meaning of shareholding is found to have diminished through quantitative and qualitative verification, by their sale, etc.

(2) Method of examining the rationality of shareholdings

The Group performs quantitative and qualitative examination of the medium- to long-term economic rationality and future outlook of strategic shareholdings based on factors such as the risks and returns.

(3) Details of examination on whether the holding of specific shares is appropriate by the Board of Directors, etc.

The strategic shareholdings held by the Group are subject to investigation of the purpose of holding the shares and the status of transactions. Once every year, the Board of Directors performs quantitative and qualitative examination of each issue regarding whether the risks and returns are commensurate with the capital cost, the purpose of holding the shares and future business trends, etc. to determine whether holding the shares is appropriate.

Shares which are thought to have “little meaning to be held” as a result of a review are sold as needed while considering factors such as the share price. Furthermore, the strategic shareholdings of the Group as a whole and the condition of the reduction thereof are managed through annual reviews.

In FY2024, 9 stocks were sold in accordance with the above policy.

3. When exercising voting rights for shares it holds, the Company checks each proposal and makes comprehensive decisions based on whether they contribute to the enhancement of the Group’s medium- to long-term corporate value through dialogue with the company (department) in control of transactions with the business partner and verification of the Corporate Strategy Department.

◆ Responses to intentions to sell cross-shareholdings (Supplementary Principle 1-4-1)

When a company that holds the Company’s shares indicates that it intends to sell its shares, the Company does not hinder the sale.

◆ Transactions with cross-shareholders (Supplementary Principle 1-4-2)

The Company does not engage in transactions with cross-shareholders which are not economically rational.

◆ Related party transactions (Principle 1-7)

The Company requires that competing transactions and transactions in conflict of interest by directors are deliberated and resolved by the Board of Directors, and reports on the status of transactions are periodically made to the Board of Directors.

Board members are required to submit a “Confirmation of Related Parties” to ascertain whether there are any transactions with related parties such as the board members themselves, their close relatives, organizations they represent and organizations in which they hold a majority of voting rights.

The Board of Directors receives reports on transactions with major shareholders periodically and as required, and provides supervision to ensure the common interests of shareholders are not harmed.

◆ Ensuring internal diversity including promotion of activities of women [Supplementary Principle 2-4-1]

In order for the Company to fulfill the social responsibilities as a company and attain sustainable growth and development, the Company considers that it is important to recruit diverse human resources, including mid-carriers with various work histories, regardless of gender or nationality. In order to utilize diverse perspectives and senses of value in corporate management, the Company has set up a specialized organization to promote diversity and inclusion, and is boosting efforts such as establishing a work environment to maximize the characteristics and abilities of each worker and training of the management staff.

In particular, the Company recognizes that promoting activities of women is indispensable. Thus, it has set such goals as increasing the ratio of female new graduates to all new hires by 25% and the number of female managers by 20% (compared to July 2022), and an action plan to promote the promotion to management. The ratio of female new graduates joining the company in April 2025 was 24%, the number of female managers as of the end of March 2025 was 21.4% higher than when the target was set, and the company will continue to make efforts to promote the advancement of women. In addition, for flexible work styles, the Company strives to offer an institutional support such as a telecommuting system and a childcare leave system that meet higher requirements than the legal requirements. The Company also makes efforts to expand the range of occupations in which diverse human resources can be successful.

At our overseas bases, mainly in the Asia-Pacific region, the Company is committed to developing human resources so that each and every employee can fully demonstrate his or her abilities, such as through mutual support by dispatching personnel between bases to improve the overall technical capabilities of local human resources.

Furthermore, the Company is actively expanding the use of external human resources, and as of March 2025, the percentage of mid-career hires in managerial positions was less than 30%, and the Company aims to achieve the same level of diversity and inclusion in the future.

Based on the results of the analysis, the Company's Board of Directors obtained good results when it examined and evaluated the current state, and also continued to discuss the issues related to the Board of Directors.

In the survey, opinions were received that the effectiveness of the Board of Directors is generally ensured, and at the same time, there were opinions regarding medium- to long-term management strategies, etc., and opinions regarding the development of the next generation of management, etc. In particular, based on the past opinions, there were opinions requesting a review of the criteria for submission of proposals for consideration of orders as opinions concerning delegation of business execution, etc., which have been partially implemented, and thus the Company will consider implementing such a review as well as other delegations, etc.

In addition, in the process of formulating medium- to long-term management strategies, there was an opinion that constructive and focused discussions, including those by outside directors, are important. Therefore, more opportunities for discussion will be set up to deepen discussions, including the use of "deliberative forums," etc., where Board of Directors can freely exchange opinions and efforts will be made to continuously maintain and improve the effectiveness of the Board of Directors.

Outside directors are given opportunities to tour the offices of operating companies and construction sites as appropriate to provide a deeper understanding of the Company's business details and current condition.

Introduction of Performance-linked Remuneration Scheme

Supplementary Explanation for Applicable Items

updated

In accordance with the resolution of the 6th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 28, 2016, the “Board Benefit Trust” performance-linked stock-based remuneration system for the Group’s officers was implemented from September 30, 2016 with the objective of clarifying the connection between the remuneration of directors and the Company’s performance and share price, and raising awareness of contributions to the improvement of medium- to long-term performance and corporate value.

Through the system shares of the Company are acquired through a trust using funds contributed by the Company, and provided to directors upon retirement from their positions as officers in accordance with the Officer Stock Benefit Rules stipulated by the Boards of Directors.

The ratio of performance-linked remuneration and fixed remuneration is generally around 1:4.

The Company's consolidated operating income was chosen for the indicator for performance-linked remuneration in FY2024 as an indicator that can easily be used to raise awareness of the performance of Group companies and contributions to the enhancement of corporate value, and the number of points calculated from the results of the Company's consolidated operating income, ROE and GHG reduction goals based on base points granted according to the positions of officers were granted to officers in accordance for the Board Benefit Trust, with the Officer Stock Benefit Rules

The consolidated operating income target in the initial business plan for the current fiscal year was 27.0 billion yen. The actual result was 28.0 billion yen with ROE of 6.7%.

Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods	Established

Disclosure of Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods	updated

1. Basic policy

The total amount (limit) of directors' remuneration (excluding directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members. The same shall apply hereinafter.) is specified in the general meeting of shareholders after being approved by the Board of Directors, and the remuneration of individual directors uses a remuneration system based on the roles and responsibilities of each position.

Furthermore, the policy on determination of the content of remuneration of individual directors is deliberated upon by the "Nomination and Compensation Committee" *(chaired by an independent outside director) , with a majority of independent outside directors as an advisory body to the Board of Directors to improve objectivity and transparency and the results are reported to the Board of Directors, which determines the policy based on the report.

Outside directors who provide supervisory functions are only paid monthly base remuneration considering their duties.

2. Policy on determination of the amount of individual remuneration for base remuneration (monetary remuneration) (including the policy on determination of the timing or conditions of granting remuneration, etc.)

The total amount (limit) of directors' remuneration is specified in the general meeting of shareholders after provisions being approved by the Board of Directors, and the base remuneration of individual directors (excluding outside directors) is fixed monthly remuneration of which the amount is obtained by dividing the annual salary based on the roles and responsibilities of each position by 15.

The standard bonus is equal to three months of fixed monthly remuneration (the amount remaining after deducting 30% to be allocated to the Board Benefit Trust performance-linked stock compensation scheme (hereinafter referred to as "Board Benefit Trust") as described in section 3). The number of months of payment may vary based on comprehensive consideration of the Company's performance in the previous fiscal year and the outlook for performance in the current fiscal year, the payment of employee special allowances, and individual performance evaluation of each director. The standard bonus is determined by the President and CEO and paid once a year in the summer, subject to reporting to the Nomination and Compensation Committee.

The percentages of fixed remuneration and variable remuneration are generally around 80% (12/15) for the former and 20% (3/15) for the latter.

3. Policy on determination of the content of performance-linked remuneration and non-monetary remuneration, and the method of calculation of the amount or number thereof (including the policy on determination of the timing or conditions of granting remuneration, etc.)

With regard to performance-linked remuneration and non-monetary remuneration, "Board Benefit Trust" has been introduced in order to clarify the connection between the remuneration of officers and the Company's performance and share price, and to raise awareness of contributions to the improvement of medium- to long-term performance and corporate value. Up to 150 million yen for the Company's Directors is contributed to the trust as funds for the trust to acquire the shares required for each period of three fiscal years in advance, and the maximum number of shares granted per fiscal year is equivalent to 33,000 shares (resolution of the 12th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 14, 2022).

The Company's consolidated operating profit, ROE, and ESG indicator achievement have been chosen as indicators for performance-linked remuneration that can easily be used to raise awareness of the contributions to performance of Group companies and enhancement of corporate value. And, in accordance with the "Officer Stock Benefit Rules," the number of points granted is calculated by multiplying the base points set to allocate 30% of three months of monthly remuneration by the performance-linked coefficient based on the Company's consolidated operating profit, ROE, and ESG indicator achievement and one share is granted for each point at the time of retirement.

4. Policy on determination of the percentages of the amount of monetary remuneration and the amount of performance-linked remuneration, etc. or the amount of non-monetary remuneration in relation to the amount of individual directors' remuneration

Of the annual salary specified according to the roles and responsibilities of each position of directors (excluding outside directors), the percentages of the amount of monetary remuneration and the amount of performance-linked remuneration, etc. are around 80% fixed remuneration and 20% variable remuneration, and 30% of the variable remuneration is allocated to the Board Benefit Trust, which is a form of non-monetary remuneration.

(Note) In consideration of insider trading regulations, etc., all directors (excluding outside directors) are required to contribute 10% or more of their monthly remuneration to the officers' shareholding association in order to increase awareness as management and awareness of the common goal of enhancing shareholder value. Therefore, these percentages are effectively 72% fixed remuneration, 28% variable remuneration and 14% non-monetary remuneration (share-based remuneration).

5. Matters related to determination of the content of remuneration, etc. of individual directors

The Company entrusts Toshiki Nakayama*, President and CEO, with the responsibility of making decisions on the individual remuneration of Directors, based on the resolution of the Board of Directors and within the total amount resolved at the general meeting of shareholders, on the premise that he will prepare a proposal for individual remuneration and report it to the Nomination and Compensation Committee.

The President and CEO, who is entrusted with the decision, prepares a proposal for individual remuneration in accordance with the decision-making policy regarding the details of remuneration, etc. for each individual director resolved at the Board of Directors meeting, and reports the proposal to the Nomination and Compensation Committee for decision.

Support System for Outside Directors

In holding the Board of Directors meeting, in order to contribute to the enhancement of deliberations on the agenda items of the Board of Directors, related departments will explain the necessary matters agenda items in advance to outside directors and outside corporate auditors.
